Wednesday May 17th - the day fixed for the meeting of the Delphic to the System of Government.

Tuesday 23d of May, when the following gentlemen appeared

Mr. Robert Morris informed the members assembled that by the resolution of the committee of the committee of the dispersion of the people, he proposed to appoint Washington as President, and so on.

Mr. George Washington spoke on the occasion, expressing his confidence that the choice would be unanimous, and observing that the honor of the convention, and the confidence of the people, would be preserved.

Washington was accordingly unanimously elected by ballot, and conducted to the chair by Mr. R. Morris and Mr. Rutledge, from which he declined any specification to any other person.

Of the motion of Mr. Madison, in which he was to act, connected to the next meeting of the convention, and the conduct of Mr. Hamilton towards the involuntary person which his unwisdom might occasion.

The nomination came with particular grace from France, as well as from the Convention.

Mr. Wilson moved that a vacancy in the appointment be appointed and nominated.

Mr. Temple nominated Major Lippin.

Mr. Hamilton nominated Major Lippin.

Mr. Hamilton, Major Lippin.

Mr. Hamilton, Major Lippin, a vote of Mr. Franklin's, in favor of Major Lippin.
